LIFE WAGES FOR MAN INJURED.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey will pay Vincent Pelican his wages for life and $400 for medical expenses, incurred when he was injured by a fall from a scaffold at the company's plant at Constable Hook.

$500,000 FOR ITS EMPLOYEES.

Directors of the National Carbon Company have mailed letters to the stockholders asking approval of a plan for sharing profits with the employees. Stockholders are asked to set aside $500,000 of a new issue of stock to be given to employees. The company employs 4,000 persons and has nine branch factories in other parts of the country.

ERNST HAS A WALK-OVER

FOR NOMINATION

The Republican wiseacres all say that Colonel Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, is one copper-riveted cinch for the long term Senatorial nomination of his party, and every mother's son of them is praying that Beckham will be the man pitted against him from the Democratic side. The Republicans believe that if Beckham is nominated thousands of Democrats will refuse to support him in November, and that the vast majority of these will give their suffrage to Ernst as they gave it to Wilson a just Hager for Governor in 1907.

The Progressive leaders have pretty much the same notion about their nominee, whether he be George W. Jolly, of Owensboro, or Burton Vance, of Louisville. They argue that either way—Beckham or Stanley—there will be a lot of sore Democrats, and they believe that they will prefer a Bull Moose to a Republican if they have to make a choice outside of their own party. Democrats, on the other hand are expressing the opinion that there will be only a medium of disaffection and that the nominee, be he Beckham or be he Stanley, will take his seat as United States Senator March 4, 1915.—Cromwell's Lexington letter in Sunday's Enquirer.

GAS COMPANIES AND PROFIT SHARING.

According to a daily Consular and Trade Report on profit sharing and labor co-partnership in Great Britain, "about half of the gas produced by gas companies in the United Kingdom is produced under profit sharing conditions."

A STUDY IN PSYCHOLOGY.

"All this talk about psychological depression and mental mourning which the Administration is handing out bring to mind the story of the old maiden aunt who was rearing her orphan niece to follow the tenets of Christian Science," remarked a banker.

"The aunt and her little niece were about to pass a billy goat on the sidewalk when the child stopped and said she was afraid."

"My child," said the aunt, "don't you realize that the goat is error and only the product of your imagination? Just believe that the goat does not exist and he will not be there."

"I know, auntie," said the child, "that the goat is not there, but the goat don't know I'm not here."

VILLA, THE MAN ON THE JOB.

When there's a task to be done, Villa, ex-bandit, doesn't spend a lot of time talking about it. He goes and does it—if he can.

If he can't, he tries again. He's a man of action, all right. A man Lincoln would have given words for 52 years ago.

In another way, too, he is proving useful as an example. He is eager to learn, and if those who know him best may be believed, his head isn't a bit enlarged.

Not that he's faultless; by no means. He's as full of faults as a gourd is of seeds. But they're human faults and faults due to bad surroundings. In the big essential of loyalty to his cause, which is less personal glory or gain than a better show for his comrades, he appears to assay about as well as any chap just now in the limelight; while for efficiency he has most of 'em gasping.

Isn't it odd how, somehow, throughout history, the occasion has a habit of locating the man?—Cincinnati Post.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE.

Their Problem.

(Editor's note: Smythfield Jiggins, the author of this story and the newest and most promising member of our literary staff, has had a most unusual and eventful life to equip himself with the strange experiences with which he enriches his stories. At the age of eight he was kidnapped by a band of roving Pishtush Indians. His father, being a poor radium importer, could not afford to ransom him, so the Indians adopted him. He escaped from them because he could not stand the steady diet of fried maize, but not before he had learned all the curious and exciting manners and customs of the Pishtushes. Later he was by turns a toothpick vendor, a border policeman, chief bellboy on a cattle steamer, target in a sideshow knife throwing exhibition, sardine fisherman and rabbit trapper. It is interesting to note how he decided to take up literature as a profession. "I found that when I tried to talk intelligently to people on any subject under the sun I always failed to make my meaning plain to them," says Mr. Jiggins, "so I decided to write.")

THEIR PROBLEM.

By Smythfield Jiggins.
 "Let's one-step!" he exclaimed.
 "No," she murmured. "Let's Argentine!"
 They hesitated.

(The End.)

—Louisville Times.

When a child tries to sell you a ticket to it, that is an indication the projectors of the show are afraid it won't draw on its merits.

A confidence man must be smart, well-dressed and a convincing talker. That is one reason there are comparatively few confidence men.

HALF FARE RATES TO FAIR

Blue Grass Fair is a Member American Poultry Association.

The Blue Grass Fair is a member of the American Poultry Association, and the exhibit in this large and important department will be governed by the rules of that Association. This is a guarantee of equal rights and justice to all.

A classification embodying premiums for over 300 classes of poultry and pigeons has been prepared, and the management expects this year to be, as usual, a great show.

In addition to cash premiums, the Blue Grass Fair and a number of merchants of Lexington have donated silver cups and many additional prizes of merchandise, etc.

Heretofore the Pigeon Department has been under the management of the Poultry Department, but through the interest of the wide awake Pigeon Breeders of this section, the management of the Blue Grass Fair has appointed a committee of the foremost pigeon breeders and placed the department in their hands, which assures a big show under proper management. Dr. C. W. Trapp, Dr. A. Porter Taylor and Mr. E. W. Hoke have been engaged as judges and a winning here will mean as much as at any state fair in the country. Come, bring your birds and help us make this the largest and most successful show in the South. If you can not come yourself, send your birds, and we assure you they will get the proper care and attention.

Birds will be cooped in Standard Uniform Coops, and one bird to the section, for which the small sum of five cents per bird will be charged. This assures no fighting or ragged birds at the end of the show. Every attention will be given birds not accompanied by owners, so in making an entry here you can rest assured that your birds will be well cared for.

Half Fare Rates to Fair.
 Do not fail to visit the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington the week of August 3rd to 8th. One fare rates will prevail on all railroads in Kentucky. Every afternoon and evening, beginning Sunday, August 2nd, there will be magnificent band concerts, with high class vocalists in a Grand Sacred Concert.

A new standard will be set for fair music. Heretofore we have been content to hear instrumental concerts interspersed with some renowned soloists in choice selections, but Thaviu introduces a quartette and, how they make the furthermost nook and cranny of the amphitheater echo with the marvelous and ever fresh strains from "Lucia," "Il Trovatore," "Carmen," "Martha," etc. Hardly has the insinuating quartette been stilled when forth troops a perfect charge of trumpets and trombone players, and with Thaviu himself leading the van, such outbursts of harmony are not often heard. It is not the usual blatant, noisy demonstration of a brass choir, but a musically effective combination, swelling in great sounds until a startling climax is attained.

Amusement lovers who crave originality will find it to their heart's content at the Blue Grass Fair this year. Woman's Department.
 The Woman's Department of the Blue Grass Fair, to be held at Lexington August 3rd to 8th, will be more important and extensive this year than ever before. The premium list has been revised, and classes offered cover almost every kind of woman's work and table luxuries. The third floor of the Art Hall is given entirely to this department, and is usually one of the most attractive exhibits of the Big Fair.

The second floor will again be utilized this year by the "Merchants of Lexington," and it is needless to say will be an attractive exposition of wares manufactured and sold in Lexington.

Saddle Horses.
 Saddle horses will be an important feature at Lexington this year. Outstanding in importance among the live stock features of the Blue Grass Fair will be the Kentucky Stake, guaranteed $1,000, to be divided into six months. This stake closed with 113 entries, representing all of the best breeders in Central Kentucky, and was inaugurated this year by the Fair Association and the stake guaranteed by the management.
 Additional stakes for yearlings, two-year-olds and aged classes should make this year's program the most attractive ever seen at a fair for saddle horses, as both three and five-gaited classes are provided for.

RED, SCALY SKIN

Cured by our Saxo Salve
 "A Highland, N. Y., woman writes:—
 "Since 1901 I suffered from eczema and my skin was very tender, red and scaly, and I could find no relief until I used Saxo Salve. It worked like magic, in less than a week the scales were gone and now the skin is healed and smooth, thanks to Saxo Salve."
 If we can't cure your skin trouble with our Saxo Salve and Saxo Soap we will buy back the empty tube.

DRY LAW IS NOT VIOLATED

If Name of Brewing Company Is On Wagon, Magistrate Rules.

Huntington, W. Va.—That the name of a brewing company on its wagons is not a violation of that section of the Yost law which prohibits advertisement of liquor by signs in West Virginia was the ruling of Magistrate Rogers here in the case of B. B. Cain, who was arrested because the name West Virginia Brewing Company had not been erased from a wagon in which he was collecting empty bottles. Cain was dismissed.

DAMAGED GOODS

It is estimated that moths cost the people of the United States $10,000,000 a year by damaging their out-season clothes. But, cheer up, let "Mae" dry clean your last winter clothes and put them in one of his sanitary moth proof bags.

We may not be the cheapest, but we are emphatically the best.

Ladies' and gent's suits dry cleaned only $1.00. No charge for small repairs. These clothes are to be returned to us in the fall to be finished.
